Dedication

This year's recipient of the 1998 yearbook dedication is Madeline Sherman. Mrs. Sherman devotes all of her energies to different school functions. Along with being the U.S. History teacher for many years, she is also the senior class advisor, the high school librarian, and the yearbook advisor. She has spent a lot of her time on this yearbook and she deserves special recognition for all of her hard work. Mrs. Sherman is always there when she is needed and she strives to please all.

We are proud to present this honor to Mrs. Sherman, our loyal teacher and friend.

Class Officers: Secretary Courtney Gildersleeve, Vice President Bethany Salerni, Treasurer Jennefer Gradziel, President Brian Allenby.

Yulia Molodstova

My life in America started on the 5th of August when I arrived in Burlington. My trip was long but interesting as I met a lot of different people on my way. My route was Yekaterinburg-Moscow-Amsterdam-New York-Boston-Burlington. Almost all of my family and friends came to say goodbye and send me to a new stage in my life, to the country that nobody really knows about in Russia, to the different world.

I was born in Yekaterinburg, and there I spent almost 16 years of my life. My city is the capital of Urals, and is not far away from the Ural mountains, the border between Europe and Asia. The population is more than 5 million people, and I live right in the center. It's rather old, as it goes back to 1723. The name comes from Catherine I, one of the rulers of Russia in the eighteenth century.

I live with my mother, who works on TV, my brother Georgy, who is cute but a little annoying sometimes, my two cats and my dog. My father is a journalist, and he works mostly for the local newspaper with his own projects.

My school is a place to be, though it is really different from American schools. The thing about my school that helped me to come here is that it specializes in English. We study English for many years in school, and we learn American literature, the economy and politics. We have a lot of fun stuff too, even though it is much more difficult to study in a Russian school since we have many more exams, and much more written work.

Nevertheless, all of this studying wasn't a waste of time, I think. It opened a way to America for me. I won a competition which is held each year since 1992 in different parts of Russia. I passed through three different levels and it was actually fun because I got a chance to practice my English and to communicate with different people. And on April 27, 1997, a representative from FSA-Flex called and said, "You are going to America, aren't you excited?" I was excited and shocked. I'm here for the school year, and I enjoy this part of America, though my image of the U.S. was always New York, Los Angeles, the Grand Canyon, and Hollywood, which are definitely much different than Vermont.

I am glad to learn about this part of the country that so few Russians know about.

I have visited a lot of places here. My American family, Megan, Cheryl and Jim Dean took me to Maine, to the ocean coast. It was the first time in my life that I had ever smelled and seen the ocean. We have traveled a lot around Vermont, visited Mark Twain's house in Connecticut, went to New Jersey, and New York City where we stayed for several days. I was really excited about these travels because I don't get to travel much in Russia, and I really want to see the world, the different ways of life and the different cultures. That's why I came to America. I wanted to move forward, to learn this new world, to meet new people, and to become more independent. I am glad I am here, in this little town of Proctor. I think I'll remember this year for a long time, and I will remember all of the things that we did together, people and places, my family, my teachers, and my friends. I hope I'll leave some memories and fun for everyone when I leave.

Students

Lydia Zimmer

In the fall of 1996 I visited Proctor with eleven other German students as part of the GAP Program. In those three weeks we saw many sites in Vermont during Indian summer. My friends and I had a lot of fun and the most wonderful, unforgettable time together. I tasted the differences in the cultures and lifestyle; the friendly people and the English language fascinated me. Nobody could stop me from wanting to become an exchange student for one whole year. I wanted to meet new people, to celebrate the four seasons and their holidays in a foreign, unknown way, to learn the English language and last but not least, to develop my character, and myself-find my way of life.

My parents, my eleven-year old sister Sarah and all of my friends supported me in my decision. They gave me the strength to leave Weimar and the people I knew-my German life.

I grew up in Weimar, a city with about 60,000 inhabitants, which is also the culture capital of Europe in 1999. I attended the Friedrich Schiller Gymnasium, where I finished the tenth grade. This year at PHS is just a break; I still have to finish my junior and senior year when I return to Germany in the summer of 1998. For eleven years I trained as a swimmer and also enjoy judo and playing basketball. I love sports and that is why I am happy to be on the PHS basketball team. Trying to ski is one of my goals and I have already had a lot of fun with ice-skating. Maybe I will try to play softball this spring, a sport that we don't have in Germany. I enjoy reading books and I like to write. It is fascinating how you can play with the words and use language. One of the most amazing things that happened to me was when I started thinking and dreaming in English. I like art too, probably because you can tell feelings and show expressions like words with it. But the most important part of my life, next to my family, is my friends. I spend most of my time with them. We love to go to the movies, theaters or just sit in a cafe and talk and laugh. If we are celebrating, going for a walk or joking around -boredom never happens.

I am lucky that here Laura, Meghan, and Pat Burke, my American family, and Frau Burke have become my very best friends. Never ever will I forget them. I arrived here, for the second time, last summer. Again I stay with the Burkes, the host family I already knew from GAPP. Here in Proctor I started all over again. I just was a 16-year old exchange student from Germany and I had to define myself to other people and present my character. That is a lot of fun, but not always easy. It was scary to go into the unknown, but the people opened their hearts and welcomed me into their lives. I have already gotten more out of my stay than I had ever imagined. My dreams are becoming happy reality.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Back: Bethany Salerni, Rhea Brough, Rob Pennington, Brian Hurhula, Steve Swan, Brian Allenby, Tyler Ault. Front: Courtney Gildersleeve, Megan Dean, Brooke Jaquith, Kayce Champine, Cortni Kapitanski, Vickie Welch, Jessica Dido. Missing: Amy Arthur, Christina Dritschilo.

The National Honor Society's membership expanded to sixteen this year, its largest number in ten years. This is significant because election to the National Honor Society is the highest honor that the faculty can bestow on students in grades 10-12. Officers for the 1997-98 school year are President Brian Allenby, Vice President Megan Dean, Secretary Vickie Welch, Treasurer Steven Swan. The National Honor Society's two activities were planning and conducting honors assemblies and peer tutoring. The advisor is Pauline Vita.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council serves several purposes at PHS. As a community service organization, it sponsors Senior Citizen dinners, raises money for local charities, and participates in community service activities around Proctor. As a school government, the Student Council takes suggestions from students for changes at PHS. They also sponsor dances and other activities. They openly welcome all students' suggestions for activities at PHS. The officers for the 1997-98 school year are President Chris Stevens, Vice President Rhea Brough, Secretary Brooke Jaquith, Treasurer Caitlin Canty, Advisor Greg Mott.

VERMONT WRITING COMPETITION

School Winners: Shyla Blair, Brooke Jaquith, Scott Allenby, Michael Austin. Missing: Megan Dean, Gwen Dido.

The Vermont Honors Competition for Excellence in Writing is sponsored by the University of Vermont. The program began thirteen years ago with a donation from Stuart Martin, the president of WCAX television. Intended to encourage and inspire excellence in writing, it includes participation from sixty-five schools. Students compete locally and regionally. The finalists from each region then compete at the state level. Last year's state first place winner was Megan Dean, who received $4000.

Local winners this year were senior Megan Dean, junior Brooke Jaquith, sophomore Shyla Blair, and freshman Scott Allenby. Runners up included Jessica Dido in grade 12, Jamal Williams in grade 11, Shelley Ouellette in grade 10, and Hannah Marvin and Jessica Reynolds in grade 9. Middle school winners were Michael Austin in the seventh grade and Gwen Dido in the eighth grade.

BOYS' and GIRLS' STATE

Last June, Giovanni Romeo attended Green Mountain Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion. The event was held at Norwich University and combined interests and talents of over 200 junior boys. Students played in the band, wrote for the newspaper, and competed in athletics. They were also given the chance to run for political positions, and operated a state government. The students learned much about politics and civics from speakers including Governor Howard Dean, Lieutenant Governor Doug Racine, and Representative Steve Howard.

Giovanni Romeo and Megan Dean

Last June, Megan Dean attended Girls' State, a program sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, as Proctor's representative. Girls' State is a program for girls in their junior year and is designed to give them a better understanding of state government. As part of the week long event, Megan joined girls from all over Vermont in planning and organizing elections, forming party platforms, debating, and passing mock bills in the State House. She also had the opportunity to hear various state government speakers, and to participate in a variety of other activities including the Girls' State Newspaper, and the Girls' State Variety Show.

ODYSSEY OF THE MIND

PHS Odyssey of the Mind teams have been successful over the past few years, representing the state at World Finals in 1995 and 1996. The OM program provides teams with challenges to find creative solutions to specific long term problems on which PHS students have worked from October through March and spontaneous problems posed the day of the competition. During the 1996 World Finals the PHS team also acted as "Buddy Team" to a British team from Leeds, England. The advisor is Bob Gershon.

After overcoming several obstacles Phantom Theatre is performing "Summer Camp", a short play written by former valedictorian and thespian Katherine Follett ('96). The play is a dramatic comedy in which teens in a correctional group home must deal with an unexpected situation. Director Jamie Brassar, a junior at Castleton State College, prepared the cast and crew for the regional competition in the Vermont Drama Festival held at Rutland High School.

Performing in the cast are Andrew Sutherland, Rob Pennington, Christina Dritschilo, Tyler Ault, Courtney Gildersleeve, Susan Gershon, Jessica Dido, and Giovanni Romeo. Steven Swan, Shawn Stevens, and Anthony Blair are the technical directors, Kayla Gildersleeve and Yulia Molodstova are the stage managers. The cast and crew thank Carol Ault for producing the play, and Linda Tuscano for assisting.

PEER LEADERS

The Peer Leaders group at PHS consists of 41 students in grades 9-12 who have been trained in both alcohol and drug abuse prevention and communication skills. They sponsor activities to promote prevention, a healthy life style, and community service. The Peer Leaders' advisor is Lucinda Clark.

GREEN MOUNTAIN TEEN INSTITUTE

Proctor currently has five students who are graduates of The Green Mountain Teen Institute (GMTI). Chosen from the Peer Leaders group, these students attend a week long training which has been described as "a combination of prevention workshops and summer camp."

PROCTORIAN '98

The 1998 Proctorian started out with a lot of energy and the efforts at fundraising and design were excellent. As the year wore on peoples' time and interests waned and the bulk of the work on the yearbook was limited to very few. However, we were fortunate to have the help of our Russian exchange student, Yulia Molodstova, who was responsible for the Student Life section. But without the continuous efforts of Bethany Salerni and the help of Mrs. Brough, the yearbook would have been unable to meet its deadlines. According to advisor, Mrs. Sherman, underclassmen participation is essential to the continuation of the yearbook.

PHANTOM TELEVISION

This is the second year for the Communication Arts elective. The class has grown technologically. They now have the Avid Cinema, new microphones and better lighting. Through the generosity of the Mortimer Proctor Fund, money was donated toward the building of a studio. The studio is fully equipped with media 100, lighting, microphones, acoustic foam, and a set for production. The show can be seen on Channel 15. In the future, the class plans to continue updating the studio, equipment, and productions.

JAZZ BAND

Proctor High School's Jazz Band is a small group of musicians who meet once a week after school to practice. They work with typical pieces from the Big Band Era and perform at many different concerts with other musical groups. The Jazz Band is led by Mrs. Toner.

PROCTOR HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The PHS band members spend long hours marching in parades, performing in concerts, at individual festival auditions, and at full band competitions. The band currently has 50 members all of whom took part in a successful and productive year. There were several high school winners to All-Districts this year. They included Maryann Biro, Jenn McManus, Shyla Blair, Tyler Smith-Strutz, Caitlin Canty, Lynne Clough, Suzi Godzik, Meghan McDonnell, Liza Sutherland, Andrew Sutherland, and Rob Pennington.

CHORUS

The chorus members this year are working very hard to learn and perform new styles of music. They performed and competed in many concerts. They very actively take part in school and community events. The PHS chorus can often be found singing the National Anthem at home basketball games.

FLAG SQUAD

The flag squad worked very hard this year to make all the marching parades look their best. They marched as The Simpsons in this year's Rutland Halloween Parade. Little Maggies carried pacifiers in their mouths while others wore masks. There were also three successful spring parades, including Loyalty Day, All-State, and Memorial Day. Under the direction of Mrs. Toner the flag squad did a wonderful job this year.

JUNIOR HIGH PEER PREVENTION

Back: Sara Pennington, Kristina Gallager, Heather Moore, Katie Corliss. Front: Zarina Williams, Vanessa Anderson, Megan Jones, Rebecca Jenne, Kristi Pelkey, Kelly Argent, Leah Coughenour.

A committed group of eleven energetic, caring girls in the 7th and 8th grades participated in the Jr. High Peer Leadership group this year. In JHP, students have opportunities to run a meeting, get to know themselves better (sometimes stretching beyond their comfort zone) and bond with a group of peers with leadership goals. Activities have included a retreat, mask-making, field trips, attendance at the Castleton Teen Leadership Conference and preparation for the Honor Society Reception. The advisor is Donna O'Malley.

MATH COUNTS

Mark Young, Sarah Voigt. Missing: Jeremy Hughes, Zarina Williams.

Math Counts is an after school activity in which seventh and eighth graders get together to practice new and interesting math concepts. Students work individually and in groups to solve challenging math problems. This year's "mathletes" participated in chapter competition at Castleton State College.

GEO BEE

School Winner: Jeff Allenby

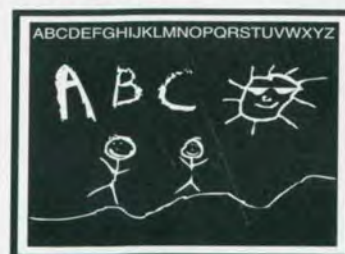

All students in the middle school participated in the school-wide Geo Bee. The school winner was Jeff Allenby. If he passes the necessary requirements, he will go on to compete at the state level.

SPELLING TEAM

Michael Austin, Megan Jones, Sara Pennington, Eric Evans.

This year's middle school spelling team practiced after school with their advisors, Mrs. May and Mrs. Cameron. In competition they were defeated by West Rutland, a worthy opponent, since West Rutland went on to win the state title.

FRENCH CLUB

Back: Shelley Ouellette, Chris Stevens, Brian Wilcox, Jessica Dido. Front: Sara Corliss, Kate Garner, Shawn Stevens, Kayce Champine, Mrs. May.

French students, along with chaperones Mrs. May and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman traveled to France during spring vacation. Some of the sights in France were the castles of the Loire Valley, Chartres Cathedral, and Versailles. In Paris they visited Notre Dame Cathedral, the Louvre Museum, Arc de Triomphe, Les Invalides, Les Champs Elysees and of course, the Eiffel Tower. Students also took a side trip to Giverny, the home of Monet, and ended their week in Paris with an evening of traditional French cuisine and a tour of the City of Lights at night.

Eleven students with chaperones Grag Mott and Maureen Burke will depart on June 17, 1998 for twenty-three days in Germany. This year marks the fourth exchange between PHS and the Friedrich Schiller Gymnasium in Weimar, Germany. There is a lot of excitement in Weimar this year as they prepare to be the cultural capital of Europe for 1999. In addition to attending school daily, students will experience various cultural events and visit numerous sites. The group journeys to Munich for the last five days to enjoy the splendor of the Alps and a brief visit to Salzburg, Austria.

U.S. History students began the spring of 1998 visiting the NY Stock Exchange, the United Nations, the Museum of Modern Art, and dining at either Planet Hollywood or Little Italy. After a late night visit to the Empire State Building, they fell into their beds, exhausted. On Saturday they toured the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, and NBC Studios. After eating at the All Star Cafe, they saw "Rent". On the way home, they expected to tour the Franklin Delano Roosevelt home and museum as well as the Vanderbilt Mansion but an unexpected spring snow storm closed those sites. Chaperones included Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mr. Bloodworth, Mrs. Brough, Mrs. Burke, and Mr. Krulikowski. Mr. and Mrs. Israel Mac of Rutland also accompanied them.

The annual Winter Carnival was held as usual, despite a lack of snow and ice. The day began with an early morning breakfast sponsored by the sophomore class. Outdoor activities were limited to the tug of war, soccer and a fun run. Indoor activities continued as usual with indoor hockey and soccer, pins and rims, ping pong, trivia and scattergories. Movies were available to make up for the loss of ice time. Lunch featured subs by the Class of 1999; the freshman class provided pizza for snacks during the day. The week began with Hat Day, followed by Maroon and White Day and a spirit game against West Rutland. The pep rally included a short basketball game that featured the faculty against the seniors. The Community Variety Show, organized by Ellen Sutherland was preceded by a pot luck sponsored by the Academic Boosters. Sixties and seventies day saw a six way tie among Elizabeth Bailey, Gwen Dido, Christina Dritschilo, Susan Gershon, Courtney Gildersleeve, and James Gildersleeve. The Maroon Team won the Sportsmanship Award. The week concluded with the Winter Carnival Dance featuring Bobby Dick and the Sundowners.

The success of Junior High Girls soccer continued this year as the team finished the season with a 7-0-3 record. Coach Reg Ryan taught the girls well and all had a great time. Surely these girls are going to be a valuable asset to the varsity team in the years to come.

The Junior High Boys worked hard this season and played competitively in all eight games. Under Coach Chris Chapin, the team gained valuable skills and experience to prepare them for varsity action.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

The Junior High Girls' basketball team had a fun and successful year. According to Coach Frank Buggiani, the players were bright and gave 100% all at all times. He was proud to coach such great players with Phantom pride and spirit. Because of the size of the team, they were divided by grade. The 7th grade finished the regular season 8-2 and took second place at the CKS Christmas Tournament. The 8th grade finished the season 8-3. The assistant coaches Lori Goodrich and Reggie Ryan worked enthusiastically with the players.

Led by first year coach Randy Ouellette and assisted by Wayne Clough, the Lady Phantoms started their season with an impressive 4-0 record. They won the Black River Tip-off Tournament by one point with a three pointer at the buzzer by Shelley Ouellette. Their record was 11-8 going into the playoffs, and after an intense game against Chelsea in the playdowns the Lady Phantoms suffered a loss, ending their season at 11-9. The Lady Phantoms lose five senior players next year but will come back strong with help from the J.V. and junior high programs. Senior Rhea Brough and sophomore Caitlin Canty were selected as All-MVL players, further enhancing the Phantom tradition. Shelley Ouellette received the Buggiani Award.

Coached by Chris Hughes and assisted by Dick Wilcox, the team ended their regular season with a record of 7-13. They got off to a rough start, but they played traditional Phantom basketball at the end. The Phantoms won the Cabot tournament which boosted their confidence and took them to the second round of the playoffs after beating Canaan by 30 at home in the playdowns. However, they did lose in the second round of the playoffs, ending their season with a record of 8-14. Senior Mike Pratt was nominated for All MVL. Senior Brian Allenby received the Buggiani Award. Scott Allenby was selected as MVP and Pat Rider was selected the Defensive Player of the Year.

This year's varsity cheerleaders faced many obstacles, including the lack of a coach. Fortunately, Laurie Markie, assisted by Cindy Arthur, stepped forward. The squad began with eleven members, but was reduced because of a variety of problems. They worked hard all season and were dedicated athletes. With only senior, Lena Bizon, graduating, they look forward to a solid start next year.

Success
(Max Ellison c1969)

I've learned to say my name; and speak
the year; the month; the day of week
Please and Thanks with some small grace;
To know myself within the race
Of human beings where I walk.
I've learned to read, to write, to talk
To cipher numbers one to ten.
I drop them there and start again.
I've learned the quiet of an hour.
I've learned the beauty of a flower.

Love, Mom and Dad

Rob: Do what you want to do, and do your best at it! Love you always, Mom, Bill, Heather, L. Bill, Arthur ...

Courtney
You have been a gift to us since you were born.
Now the world gets to know your worth.
Love always,
Mom, Dad, Jamie,
Kayla, Bryan
(Rascal, too)

Steven,
Your hard work and achievements made us proud!
With Love, Dad, Mom
and Gram "P"

Heather,
Congratulations! Your caring heart and wonderful smile have touched so many. You will always be an Angel
in our eyes.
Love, Dad, Mom and Odie.
